

1. KLOVE radio station has served my community with inspirational songs and news about upcoming events and services to help all walks of life.
2. The loss of this station would be a detriment to our area because so many people listen and are inspired by the music as well as taking part in the free community services that the station informs us about.
3. Spirituality is a huge part of many people and promotes peace, giving, and overall good citizenship. Many lives are touched by the healing services such as pastors available for call-ins, and the very uplifting music that is played. I have heard many testimonies about pastors saving lives of several listeners contemplating suicide, as well as turning many lives around and becoming givers.
